Friday
Publishing & Book Writing 101
3:30 PM EST
Dr. Kathy Kendall-Tackett

Publications are key to professional success. Yet, most graduate students never learn even the basics of the publication process. Dr. Kathleen Kendall-Tackett, the current Editor-in-Chief of Psychological Trauma (Division 56 APA journal) will be presenting on the tricks of the trade of publishing and how to increase your chances of success. Dr. Kendall-Tackett is also the Editor-in-Chief of the U.S. Lactation Consultant Association journal, Clinical Lactation, and has authored or edited over 400 articles or book chapters and 40 books and monographs.

Friday

Promoting Posttraumatic Growth Among Women First Responders
5:00 PM EST
Kristen Faye Burda, BA Yale, MA Wright

At the intersection of first responder psychology, feminist psychology, and trauma psychology, this presentation will explore the effective, culturally competent treatment of post-traumatic stress in women first responders, including methods of fostering posttraumatic growth among women working in emergency medical services, law enforcement, and the fire service. Kristen will share some of her original quantitative research pertaining to the effective treatment of post-traumatic stress injury among women first responders. Kristen will explore methods for providing culturally-competent mental health care to this community, emphasizing resilience and posttraumatic growth.
